NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Going Concern

A. The accompanying financial statements of New York Life Insurance Company ("the Company") have been prepared using accounting practices prescribed by the New York State Department of Financial Services ("NYSDFS" or "the Department").

The Department recognizes only statutory accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the State of New York for determining and reporting the financial position and results of operations of an insurance company and for determining its solvency under New York Insurance Law. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners' ("NAIC") Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual ("NAIC SAP") has been adopted as a component of prescribed practices by the State of New York. Prescribed statutory accounting practices include state laws and regulations. Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass accounting practices that are not prescribed; such practices differ from state to state, may differ from company to company within a state, and may change in the future. The Company has no permitted practices.

A reconciliation of the Company's net income and capital and surplus at December 31, 2025 and 2024 between practices prescribed or permitted by the State of New York and NAIC SAP is shown below:

* NYSDFS Regulation 213 subjects principle-based valuations as prescribed by the valuation manual to minimum New York State requirements; NYSDFS Regulation 151 prescribes rules and guidelines for performing valuations of annuity, single premium life insurance, guaranteed interest contract and other deposit reserves.

 NYSDFS Circular Letter No. 11 (2010) clarified the accounting for deferred premium assets when reinsurance is involved.

 NYSDFS Regulation 172 was amended to allow for the admission of an unearned reinsurance premium asset.

B. The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Management is also required to disclose contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

C. Life premiums are recognized as revenue when due. Annuity considerations are recognized as revenue when received. Commissions and other costs associated with acquiring new business are charged to operations as incurred. Premiums on guaranteed interest contracts ("GICs") with purchase rate guarantees, which introduce an element of mortality risk, are recorded as income when received. Amounts received or paid under deposit type contracts without mortality or morbidity risk are not reported as income or benefits but are recorded directly as an adjustment to the liability for deposit funds.

Internal replacements refer to transactions whereby a policyholder transfers the surrender value from their current policy into a similar policy. Premiums and benefits from internal replacements are reported gross in the accompanying Statement of Operations.

Policy reserves are based on mortality tables and valuation interest rates, which are consistent with statutory requirements and are designed to be sufficient to provide for contractual benefits. The Company holds reserves greater than those developed under the minimum statutory reserving rules when the valuation actuary determines that the minimum statutory reserves are inadequate.

The Company has established policy reserves on contracts issued January 1, 2001 and later that exceed the minimum amounts determined under Appendix A-820, "Minimum Life and Annuity Reserve Standards" of NAIC SAP by approximately $1,205,318,858.

The liability for dividends to policyholders consists principally of dividends expected to be paid during the subsequent year. The allocation of dividends is approved annually by the Board of Directors and is determined by means of formulas, which reflect the relative contribution of each group of policies to divisible surplus.

In addition, the Company uses the following accounting policies:

(1) Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, amounts due from banks and highly liquid debt instruments that have original maturities of three months or less at date of purchase and are carried at amortized cost. Cash and cash equivalents also include money market mutual funds which are stated at fair value. Short-term investments consist of securities with remaining maturities of one year or less, but greater than three months at the time of acquisition and are carried at amortized cost, which approximates fair value.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(2) Bonds that meet the principles-based bond definition ("PBBD") are stated at amortized cost using the interest method. Bonds in or near default (rated NAIC 6) are stated at the lower of amortized cost or fair value. The Company reviews all debt securities to determine if they meet the PBBD criteria to be reported as Schedule D bonds. The review includes confirming that the debt instrument represents a creditor relationship with a fixed payment schedule for one or more future payments and where any non-debt variables are nominal. For all ABS, the Company confirms that credit enhancement to our tranches is substantive from either subordination or overcollateralization. For ABS backed by cash-generating non-financial assets, the Company also confirms that cash flows produced by the collateral are meaningful as defined in SSAP No. 26 "Bonds". The cost basis of bonds is adjusted for impairments in value deemed to be other-than-temporary, with the difference between the bond's amortized cost and its fair value recognized as a realized loss reported in net income. The new cost basis of an impaired bond is not adjusted for subsequent increases in estimated fair value. In periods subsequent to the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment ("OTTI"), the impaired bond is accounted for as if it had been purchased on the measurement date of the impairment. SVO-Identified bond Exchange Traded Funds ("ETFs") are stated at fair value and reported as bonds if they meet certain criteria stipulated by the NYSDFS. Refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements for discussion on the valuation approach and methods for bonds.

(3) Unaffiliated common stocks are carried at fair value. Unrealized gains and losses are reflected in surplus, net of deferred taxes. The cost basis of common stocks is adjusted for impairments in value deemed to be other-than-temporary, with the difference between the common stock's cost and its fair value recognized as a realized loss reported in net income. Refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements for a discussion on the valuation approach and methods for common stocks.

(4) Redeemable preferred stocks in "good standing" (NAIC designation of 1 to 3) are valued at amortized cost. Redeemable preferred stocks "not in good standing" (NAIC designation of 4 to 6) are valued at the lower of amortized cost or fair value. Perpetual preferred stock and mandatory convertible preferred stock are valued at fair value, not to exceed any currently effective call price. The cost basis of preferred stocks is adjusted for impairments in value deemed to be other-than-temporary, with the difference between the preferred stock's amortized cost and its fair value recognized as a realized loss reported in net income. Refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements for discussion on the valuation approach and methods for preferred stocks.

(5) Mortgage loans on real estate are carried at unpaid principal balances, net of discounts, premiums, deferred origination fees related to points, and specific valuation allowances, and are collateralized. Mortgage loans include residential mortgage loans held through a qualifying statutory trust as long as the trust meets the required criteria for look-through reporting stipulated in statutory accounting guidance. Specific valuation allowances are established for the excess carrying value of the mortgage loan over the estimated fair value of the collateral as an unrealized loss in surplus when it is probable that based on current information and events, the Company will be unable to collect amounts due under the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Fair value of the collateral is estimated by performing an internal or external current appraisal or by obtaining broker prices for residential mortgage loans. If impairment is deemed to be other-than-temporary, which can include a loan modification that qualifies as a troubled debt restructuring ("TDR"), a direct write-down is recognized as a realized loss reported in net income, and a new cost basis for the individual mortgage loan, which is equal to the fair value of the collateral, less costs to obtain and sell, is established. Refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements for a discussion of the valuation approach and methods for mortgage loans.

Real estate includes properties that are directly-owned and real estate property investments that are directly and wholly-owned through a limited liability company and meet certain criteria. Real estate held for the production of income and home office properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and encumbrances. Real estate held for sale is stated at the lower of cost less accumulated depreciation or fair value, less encumbrances and estimated costs to sell. If there is an indication that the carrying amount of the real estate may not be recoverable, then it must be tested for impairment. If the carrying amount of a real estate investment exceeds its undiscounted cash flows, an OTTI is recorded as a realized loss in net income, calculated as the difference between the carrying amount of the real estate investment and the fair value of the real estate investment. Depreciation of real estate held for the production of income and home office properties is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated lives of the assets, generally 40 years. Costs of permanent improvements are depreciated over the shorter of their estimated useful life, or the remaining estimated life of the real estate. Rental revenue from leased real estate is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(6) The interest method for asset-backed securities, which are included in bonds, uses current assumptions of projected cash flows..Amortization of premium or accretion of discount from the purchase of these securities considers the estimated timing and amount of cash flows of the underlying loans, including prepayment assumptions based on data obtained from external sources or internal estimates. Projected future cash flows are updated monthly, and the amortized cost and effective yield of the securities are adjusted as necessary to reflect historical prepayment experience and changes in estimated future prepayments. For high credit quality asset-backed securities backed by the U.S. government (those rated AA or above at the date of acquisition), the adjustments to amortized cost are recorded as a charge or credit to net investment income in accordance with the retrospective method. For all other securities, including all asset-backed securities that are not of high credit quality (those rated below AA at date of acquisition), floating rate securities and securities with the potential for a loss of a portion of the original investment due to contractual prepayments (e.g., interest only securities), the effective yield is adjusted prospectively for any changes in estimated cash flows. Refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements, for discussion on the valuation approach and methods for bonds.

The cost basis of asset backed securities is adjusted for impairments in value that are deemed to be other-than-temporary. An other-than-temporary loss is recognized in net income when it is anticipated that the amortized cost will not be recovered. For asset-backed securities, the entire difference between the security's amortized cost and its fair value is recognized in net income only when the Company (a) has the intent to sell the security or (b) it does not have the intent and ability to hold the security to recovery. If neither of these two conditions exists, a realized loss is recognized in net income for the difference between the amortized cost basis of the security and the net present value of projected future cash flows expected to be collected. The net present value is calculated by discounting the Company's best estimate of projected future cash flows at the effective interest rate implicit in the asset-backed security prior to impairment.

The new cost basis of an impaired security is not adjusted for subsequent increases in estimated fair value. In periods subsequent to the recognition of an other-than-temporary impairment ("OTTI"), the impaired bond security is accounted for as if it had been purchased on the measurement date of the impairment. Accordingly, the discount (or reduced premium) based on the new cost basis may be accreted (or amortized) into net investment income in future periods based on prospective changes in cash flow estimates, to reflect adjustments to the effective yield.

(7) Investments in subsidiaries are stated as follows: (1) domestic insurance subsidiaries are stated at the value of their underlying U.S. statutory surplus; (2) foreign insurance subsidiaries that have U.S. GAAP audits, are stated at U.S. GAAP equity adjusted for certain assets that are disallowed under statutory accounting practices, otherwise the investment is nonadmitted; (3) non-insurance subsidiaries are carried at U.S. GAAP equity unless they are engaged in certain transactions that are for the benefit of the Company or its affiliates and receive 20% or more of their revenue from the Company or its affiliates. In this case, non-insurance subsidiaries are carried at U.S. GAAP equity adjusted for the same items as foreign insurance subsidiaries; (4) all other assets and liabilities in a downstream holding company are accounted for in accordance with the appropriate NAIC SAP guidance. Dividends and distributions from subsidiaries are recorded as a component of net investment income when declared and changes in the equity of subsidiaries (both in the form of common stock and limited liability companies ("LLCs")) are recorded as unrealized gains or losses in surplus, net of deferred taxes. In the absence of an admissible audit, the entire investment is nonadmitted.

(8) Limited partnerships and limited liability companies which have admissible audits are carried at the underlying audited equity of the investee. The financial statements of equity method investees are usually not received in time for the Company to apply the equity method at each reporting period. Therefore, the equity pick-up on these investments has been recorded on a one to three-month lag.

The cost basis of limited partnerships and limited liability companies is adjusted for impairments in value deemed to be other-than-temporary, with the difference between cost and carrying value, which approximates fair value, recognized as a realized loss reported in net income.The new cost basis of an impaired limited partnership or limited liability company is not adjusted for subsequent increases in the underlying audited equity of the investee.

Dividends and distributions from limited partnerships and limited liability companies, other than those deemed a return of capital, are recorded in net investment income. Undistributed earnings are included in unrealized gains and losses and are reflected in surplus, net of deferred taxes.

Investments in tax credit structures, including Low Income Housing Tax Credit (“LIHTC”) LLCs, wind energy LLCs and New Market Tax Credit ("NMTC") LLCs, which are included in other invested assets, are recorded at proportional amortized cost and include remaining unfunded commitments. The carrying value of the investment is amortized into income in proportion to the actual and projected future amounts of tax credits and deductible losses. The amortization is recorded through net investment income.

Effective October 1, 2024, residual tranches of securitizations are reported using a cost recovery method, which is a practical expedient allowed under statutory accounting rules. Under the cost recovery method, distributions received are treated as a reduction of the residual's book value. Investment income is not recognized until the book value of the residual has been reduced to zero. An OTTI is recorded when fair value of the residual is below its book value. Prior to October 1, 2024, most residuals were reported at the lower of cost or market and income was accrued using an effective yield method.

(9) Derivative instruments that qualify and are designated for hedge accounting are valued in a manner consistent with the items being hedged. Periodic payments and receipts on these derivatives are recorded on an accrual basis within net investment income for hedges of fixed income securities, other income for hedges of liabilities, and net realized capital gains and losses for hedges of net investments in foreign operations. Net realized gains and losses are recognized upon termination or maturity of these contracts in a manner consistent with the hedged item and when subject to the IMR, are transferred to the IMR, net of taxes.

Derivative instruments that do not qualify or are not designated for hedge accounting are carried at fair value and changes in fair value are recorded in surplus as unrealized gains and losses, net of deferred taxes. Periodic payments and receipts on these derivatives are recorded on an accrual basis within net investment income for hedges of fixed income securities and within other income for hedges of liabilities. Upon termination or maturity, the gains or losses on these contracts are recognized in net realized capital gains and losses, net of taxes. Realized gains or losses on terminated or matured derivatives, which are subject to the IMR, are transferred to the IMR, net of taxes.

The Company also uses derivatives as part of replication transactions. Replication transactions refer to derivative transactions entered into in conjunction with other investments in order to reproduce the investment characteristics of otherwise permissible investments. The accounting for derivatives used in replication transactions depends upon how the underlying cash instrument is accounted for, as well as how the replicated asset would be accounted for if acquired directly; alternatively, the Company can elect to carry the derivative at fair value. The Company uses bonds as the referenced cash instrument in its current replication transactions, and therefore, the derivatives are carried at amortized cost. The Company accrues investment income for the replicated synthetic asset throughout the life of the replication transaction. Realized gains or losses at maturity of the replication transaction, which are subject to the IMR, are transferred to the IMR, net of tax.

The Company reports cash flows from the purchase or termination of derivative instruments as cash flows from investing activities unless there is a significant financing element. Income payments, which include all cash settlements and foreign exchange payments are classified as cash flows from operating activities. Changes in receivables and payables related to collateral are reported in investing activities.

(10) The Company anticipates investment income as a factor in the premium deficiency calculation for certain long-term care policies in accordance with SSAP No. 54, "Individual and Group Accident and Health Policies". Premium deficiency calculations do not apply to the Company’s other accident and health products.

(11) Unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses for accident and health contracts include an amount determined from individual case estimates and loss reports and an amount, based on past experience, for losses incurred but not reported. Such liabilities are based on assumptions and estimates and while management believes the amount is adequate, the ultimate liability may be in excess of or less than the amount provided. The methods for making such estimates and for establishing the resulting liabilities are continually reviewed and any adjustments are reflected in the period determined.

(12) The Company has not changed its capitalization policy from the prior year.

(13) The Company does not have any pharmaceutical rebates receivable.

D. Going Concern

The Company does not have any doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

2. Accounting Changes and Corrections of Errors

Changes in Accounting Principles

Accounting changes adopted to conform to the provisions of NAIC SAP or other state prescribed accounting practices are reported as changes in accounting principles. The cumulative effect of changes in accounting principles is generally reported as an adjustment to unassigned surplus in the period of the change in accounting principle. Generally, the cumulative effect is the difference between the amount of capital and surplus at the beginning of the year and the amount of capital and surplus that would have been reported at that date if the new accounting principles had been applied retroactively for all prior periods.

During 2025, the NAIC adopted revisions to SSAP No. 93 "Investments in Tax Credit Structures" to provide new guidance on the accounting, recognition, and reporting of investments where the return is substantially earned through either federal or state tax credits. Specifically, the guidance requires for all qualifying tax credit investments to be reported as Other Invested Assets on Schedule BA and accounted for under the proportional amortization method. Revisions were also made to SSAP No. 94 "State and Federal Tax Credits", which clarifies the accounting guidance for certificated tax credits and expands the current guidance to federal tax credits, while continuing to include state tax credits. The guidance also requires these tax credits to be recorded at face value, with any discount to the certificated tax credits' face value recorded as a deferred gain. The Company adopted the new guidance on January 1, 2025. Upon adoption, there was no significant impact to the Company’s surplus.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

During 2025, the NAIC adopted revisions to SSAP No. 26 “Bonds” to incorporate a principle-based bond definition. Revisions were also made to SSAP No. 43 “Asset Backed Securities” and SSAP No. 21 “Other Admitted Assets”. The revised definition includes criteria that must be met in order for a debt instrument to be reported as a bond, classified as either an issuer credit obligation or asset-backed security. The Company adopted the new guidance on January 1, 2025. Upon adoption, the Company identified debt securities with a book adjusted carrying value ("BACV") of $184,258,845 that no longer met the definition of a bond. These debt securities were reclassified to either preferred stock or other invested assets. Prior to adoption of the new definition, these debt securities were carried at amortized cost unless they had an NAIC-6 designation, which required lower of cost or market ("LOCOM") accounting. Details regarding these securities' BACV and accounting measurement before and post adoption are as follows:

Non-Bond Debt Securities	BACV at 12/31/24 as reported on Schedule D	New measurement Basis	BACV at 1/1/25 After Transition	Aggregate surplus impact after transition at 1/1/25
Debt securities reclassified to preferred stock:
General account	$ 43,294,922	Fair Value	$ 42,016,599	$ (1,278,323)
Separate accounts	1,836,277	Fair Value	1,836,277	—
Debt securities reclassified to other invested assets - (Non-Bond Debt Securities) General account	105,182,103	LOCOM	88,646,284	(16,535,818)
Debt securities reclassified to other invested assets - (Capital Notes) General account	33,945,543	Amortized cost if NAIC 1-2; LOCOM if NAIC 3-6	33,945,543	—
Total	$ 184,258,845		$ 166,444,703	$ (17,814,141)

During 2024, the NAIC adopted changes to SSAP No. 21 "Other Admitted Assets," which revise the accounting guidance for residual tranches of securitizations. The new guidance provides a practical expedient that allows for the use of a cost recovery method. Under the cost recovery method, distributions received from the investment are treated as a reduction of the residual's book value. Investment income is not recognized until the book value of the residual has been reduced to zero. The Company early adopted the new guidance on a prospective basis on October 1, 2024. There was no impact to surplus upon adoption. The Company reclassified $324,705 from unrealized losses to realized losses upon adoption.

The NAIC adopted changes to SSAP No. 56 "Separate Accounts" to clarify the definition of a book value separate account and to include accounting guidance for transfers between the general account and the separate accounts. New disclosures are also required. The Company early adopted this guidance as of December 31, 2025, which did not have any financial impact.

(i) The Company accrues interest income on mortgage loans to the extent it is deemed collectible. The Company places loans on non-accrual status and ceases to recognize interest income when management determines that the collection of interest and repayment of principal is not probable. Any accrued but uncollected interest is reversed out of interest income once a loan is put on non-accrual status. Interest payments received on mortgage loans where interest payments have been deemed uncollectible are recognized on a cash basis and recorded as interest income. If a determination is made that the principal will not be collected, the interest payment received is used to reduce the principal balance. If a mortgage loan has any investment income due and accrued that is 90 days past due and collectible, the investment income will continue to accrue but all accrued interest related to the mortgage loan is reported as a nonadmitted asset, until such time that it has been paid or is deemed uncollectible.

(j) In 2025, the Company started investing in residential mortgage loans through a Delaware Statutory Trust (the “Trust”). The Trust owns residential mortgages in three separate series. The Company, along with NYLIAC and LINA, own a 100% undivided beneficial ownership in the assets of one of the series. [1] Only the impaired lots within each CUSIP are included within this table.

(4) The following table presents the Company's gross unrealized losses and fair values for asset backed securities, aggregated by the length of time that the individual securities have been in a continuous unrealized loss position as of December 31, 2025:

	Less than 12 Months		12 Months or Greater		Total
	Estimated Fair Value	Unrealized Losses	Estimated Fair Value	Unrealized Losses	Estimated Fair Value	Unrealized Losses
General Account	$ 2,515,293,060	$ 27,053,007	$15,487,334,155	$1,317,770,044	$ 18,002,627,215	$1,344,823,051
Guaranteed Separate Accounts	489,785,673	8,945,824	1,063,775,189	86,104,968	1,553,560,862	95,050,792
Total	$ 3,005,078,733	$ 35,998,831	$16,551,109,344	$1,403,875,012	$ 19,556,188,077	$1,439,873,843

(5) The Company performs quantitative and qualitative analysis to determine if a decline in fair value was temporary. For those securities where the decline was considered temporary, the Company did not take an impairment when it had the ability and intent to hold until recovery. Factors considered in evaluating whether a decline in value is other-than-temporary include: (1) whether the decline is substantial; (2) the duration that the fair value has been less than amortized cost; (3) the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer; and (4) the Company's ability and intent to retain the investment for the period of time sufficient to allow for an anticipated recovery in value. In addition, for the non-agency residential mortgage backed securities ("RMBS") portfolio, the Company updates cash flow projections quarterly. A projection is performed for each security based upon the evaluation of prepayment, delinquency, and default rates for the pool of mortgages collateralizing each security, and the projected impact on the course of future prepayments, defaults, and loss in the pool of mortgages, but do not include market prices. As a result, forecasts may change from period to period and additional impairments may be recognized over time as a result of deterioration in the fundamentals of a particular security or group of securities and/or a continuation of heightened mortgage defaults for a period longer than the assumptions used for the forecasts. Both qualitative and quantitative factors are used in creating the Company's RMBS cash flow models. As such, any estimate of impairments is subject to the inherent limitation on the Company's ability to predict the aggregate course of future events. It should therefore be expected that actual losses may vary from any estimate and the Company may recognize additional other-than-temporary losses.

E. Dollar Repurchase Agreements and/or Securities Lending Transactions

(1) The Company enters into dollar roll repurchase agreements to sell and repurchase securities. Assets to be repurchased are the same, or substantially the same, as the assets sold. The Company agrees to sell securities at a specified price and repurchase the securities at a lower price. The Company receives cash in the amount of the sales proceeds and establishes a liability equal to the repurchase amount. The difference between the sale and repurchase amounts represents deferred income which is earned over the life of the agreement. The liability for repurchasing the assets is included in borrowed money on Page 3 – Liabilities, Surplus and Other Funds.

(2) The Company enters into securities lending agreements whereby certain investment securities are loaned to third-parties With respect to securities loaned, in order to reduce the Company's risk under these transactions, the Company requires initial cash collateral equal to 102% of the fair value of domestic securities loaned. The Company records an offsetting liability in amounts payable under security lending agreements on Page 3 – Liabilities, Surplus and Other Funds. The Company monitors the fair value of securities loaned with additional collateral obtained as necessary. The borrower of the loaned securities is permitted to sell or repledge those securities.

b. To help manage the mismatch of maturity dates between the security lending transactions and the related reinvestment of the collateral received, the Company invests in highly liquid assets.

(6) The Company has not accepted collateral that it is not permitted by contract or custom to sell or repledge, except as explained above in section (2). In the case of tri-party repurchase agreements, the collateral is kept by the custodian and is not recorded on the Company's financial statements. The Company is not permitted to sell the collateral except in the case of a counterparty default.

(7) The Company does not have any collateral or transactions for securities lending that extend beyond one year from December 31, 2025.

F. Repurchase Agreements Transactions Accounted for as Secured Borrowing

Not applicable.

G. Reverse Repurchase Agreements Transactions Accounted for as Secured Borrowing

(1) The Company enters into tri-party reverse repurchase agreements to purchase and resell short-term securities. The Company receives securities as collateral, having a fair value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the Company for the securities and the Company's designated custodian takes possession of this collateral. The Company is not permitted to sell or repledge these securities. The collateral is not recorded on the Company's financial statements. However, if the counterparty defaults, the Company would then exercise its rights with respect to the collateral, including a sale of the collateral. The fair value of the securities held as collateral is monitored daily and additional collateral is obtained, where appropriate, to protect against credit exposure. The Company records the amount paid for securities purchased under agreements to resell in cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments.

At December 31, 2025, the carrying value and fair value of securities held under agreements to purchase and resell was $169,561,058, which were classified as tri-party reverse repurchase agreements and included with cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments on Page 2 - Assets. The securities had a weighted average maturity of 2 days and a weighted average yield of 3.8%.

8. Derivative Instruments

A. Derivatives under SSAP No. 86 - Derivatives

(1)- (3) The Company uses derivative instruments to manage interest rate, currency risk, and to replicate otherwise permissible investments. These derivative instruments include foreign currency and bond forwards, interest rate options, interest rate and equity futures, interest rate, total return, inflation, credit default and foreign currency swaps. The Company does not engage in derivative instrument transactions for speculative purposes.

Interest Rate Risk Management

The Company enters into interest rate derivatives primarily to minimize exposure to fluctuations in interest rates on assets and liabilities held by the Company.

Interest rate swaps are used by the Company to hedge interest rate risk for individual and portfolios of assets. Interest rate swaps are agreements with other parties to exchange, at specified intervals, the difference between interest amounts calculated by reference to an agreed upon notional value. Generally, no cash is exchanged at the onset of the contract and no principal payments are made by either party. The Company does not act as an intermediary or broker in interest rate swaps. At December 31, 2025, the Company had interest rate swaps with a fair value of $(69,202,298) and a carrying value of $(74,213,849). Interest rate swaps which qualify and are designated as cash flow hedges are used by the Company to convert floating rate assets to fixed rate assets. These interest rate swaps are valued and reported in a manner consistent with the hedged asset. Inflation swaps are used by the Company to hedge inflation risk of certain policyholder liabilities linked to the U.S. Consumer Price Index. At December 31, 2025, the Company had inflation swaps with a fair value and carrying value of $(17,556,792).

Interest rate (Treasury) futures are used by the Company to hedge reinvestment risk of the Company's fixed income portfolio. Interest rate futures are exchange traded contracts to buy or sell a bond at a specific price at a future date. At December 31, 2025, the Company had interest rate futures with a fair value and carrying value of $(241,852).

Bond Forwards are used by the Company to hedge reinvestment risk and manage duration. Bond forwards are OTC-bilateral contracts that allow us to purchase a bond at a specific price at a future date. At December 31, 2025, the Company had bond forwards with a fair value and carrying value of $(7,033,988).

Total Return Swaps are used by the company to hedge reinvestment risk. The Company pays a funding amount in exchange for the return of a fixed income ETF. At December 31, 2024 the Company had Total Return Swaps with a fair value and carrying value of $(4,244).

Interest rate options are used by the Company to hedge the risk of increasing interest rates on policyholder liabilities. These contracts include Interest Rate Caps and Swaptions. Interest Rate Caps allow the Company to receive payments from counterparties should an agreed upon interest rate level be reached. Interest Rate Swaptions give the Company an option, but not an obligation to take delivery of an interest rate swap at a predetermined fixed rate and tenor or to cash settle for value. At December 31, 2025, the Company had interest rate options with a fair value and carrying value of $3,751,421.

Currency Risk Management

The primary purpose of the Company’s foreign currency hedging activities is to protect the value of foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities, which the Company has acquired or incurred or anticipates acquiring or incurring, and net investments in foreign subsidiaries from the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Foreign currency swaps are agreements with other parties to exchange, at specified intervals, principal and interest in one currency for the same in another, at a fixed exchange rate, which is generally set at inception and calculated by reference to an agreed upon notional value. Generally, only principal payments are exchanged at the onset and the end of the contract. At December 31, 2025, the Company had foreign currency swaps with a fair value of $1,055,412,909 and a carrying value of $860,668,749.

Foreign currency forwards involve the exchange of foreign currencies at a specified future date and at a specified price. No cash is exchanged at the time the agreement is entered into. At December 31, 2025, the Company had foreign currency forwards with a fair value of $(9,192,618) and a carrying value of $(8,797,303).

Bond forwards are paired with other investment grade bonds in replication transactions to generate the return and price risk of long-dated fixed income securities. At December 31, 2025, the Company held bond forwards with a fair value of $(44,031,180) and no carrying value.

Interest rate swaps are paired with floating rate bonds in replication transactions to generate the return and price risk of fixed rate coupon securities At December 31, 2025, the Company held interest rate swaps that were part of a replication with a fair value of $(6,124,398) and carrying value of $201,998.

Credit default swaps are paired with investment grade bonds in replication transactions to generate the return and price risk of long dated corporate bonds. At December 31, 2025, the Company held credit default swaps with a fair value of $36,967,874 and a carrying value of $19,060,270.

Hedge Effectiveness

To qualify for hedge accounting, the hedge relationship is designated and formally documented at inception detailing the particular risk management objective and strategy for the hedge, including the item and risk that is being hedged, the derivative that is being used, and how effectiveness is assessed.

A derivative must be highly effective in accomplishing the objective of offsetting either changes in fair value or cash flows for the risk being hedged. The Company formally assesses effectiveness of its hedging relationships both at the hedge inception and on an ongoing basis in accordance with its risk management policy. The hedging relationship is considered highly effective if the changes in fair value or discounted cash flows of the hedging instrument are within 80-125% of the inverse changes in the fair value or discounted cash flows of the hedged item.

The Company discontinues hedge accounting prospectively if: (1) it is determined that the derivative is no longer highly effective in offsetting changes in the fair value or cash flows of a hedged item, (2) the derivative expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, (3) it is probable that the forecasted transaction for which the hedge was entered into will not occur, or (4) management determines that the designation of the derivative as a hedge instrument is no longer appropriate.

(4) The Company had no derivative contracts with financing premiums for the year ended December 31, 2025.

(5) The Company only excludes the cross currency basis spread in its foreign currency swaps from the assessment of effectiveness. As required under SSAP No. 86, the Company reports the impact of the cross-currency basis spread in its designated cross currency swaps as a component of the swap's periodic interest accrual instead of through surplus.

(6) The Company have net gains of $4,129,669 recognized in unrealized gains and losses during the reporting period resulting from derivatives that no longer qualify for hedge accounting.

(7) The Company reports cash flows from the purchase or termination of derivative instruments as cash flows from investing activities unless there is a significant financing element. Income payments, which include all cash settlements and foreign exchange payments are classified as cash flows from operating activities. Changes in receivables and payables related to collateral are reported in investing activities.

(8) Not applicable.

(9) The Company excludes the cross-currency basis spread in its foreign currency swaps from the assessment of effectiveness as allowed under SSAP No. 86. The fair value of the cross-currency basis spread on the Company's foreign currency swaps, which was excluded from the assessment of effectiveness at December 31, 2025 was $151,399,170.

12. Retirement Plans, Deferred Compensation, Postemployment Benefits and Compensated Absences and Other Postretirement Benefit Plans

A. Defined Benefit Plans

The Company maintains various tax-qualified and non-qualified defined benefit pension plans covering eligible U.S. employees and agents. The tax-qualified plan for employees includes both a traditional formula and a cash balance formula. The applicability of these formulas to a particular plan participant is generally determined by age and date of hire. Under the traditional formula, benefits are based on final average earnings and length of service. The cash balance formula credits employees' accounts with a percentage of eligible pay each year based on years of service, along with annual interest credits at rates based on IRS guidelines. Benefits under the tax-qualified plan for agents are based on length of service and earnings during an agent's career. The non-qualified pension plans provide supplemental benefits in excess of the maximum benefits available under the tax-qualified plans due to compensation and benefit limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("IRC").

The tax-qualified defined benefit pension plans of the Company are funded solely by Company contributions. The Company's funding policy is to make annual contributions that are no less than the minimum amount needed to comply with the requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and the IRC, and no greater than the maximum amount deductible for federal income tax purposes. In 2025 and 2024, the Company did not make any voluntary contributions to the tax-qualified plans. No contributions were required to satisfy the minimum funding requirements under ERISA and the IRC.

The Company has established separate irrevocable grantor trusts covering certain of the non-qualified arrangements to help protect non-qualified payments thereunder in the event of a change in control of the Company. The grantor trusts are not subject to ERISA.

Other Postretirement Benefits

The Company provides certain health care and life benefits for eligible retired employees and agents (and their eligible dependents). Employees are eligible for retiree health and life benefits if, at their termination of service, they are at least age 55 with 10 or more years of service with the Company. Agents are generally eligible for retiree health and life benefits if they meet certain age and service criteria on the date they terminate service. In either case, an employee or agent must be enrolled in active health care coverage on the date they terminate service to be eligible for retiree coverage. A limited group of retired agents who met certain age and service criteria have retiree accidental death and dismemberment ("AD&D") coverage until age 70.

Employees and agents who retired prior to January 1, 1993 and agents who were active on December 31, 1992 and met certain age or service criteria on that date do not make contributions toward retiree health care coverage. All other eligible employees and agents may be required to contribute towards retiree health care coverage. The Company pays the entire life insurance costs for retired employees and agents including AD&D coverage for eligible retired agents..

The Company maintains two separate Voluntary Employees Beneficiary Association ("VEBA") Trusts. Effective January 1, 2025, and pursuant to authorization by the New York Life Board of Directors, the Agents' Health and Life Benefit Trust was retitled as the New York Life Insurance Company Agents' and Employees Health and Life Benefit Trust, and the Employees' Health and Life Benefit Trust was retitled as the New York Life Insurance Company Employees' and Agents' Health and Life Benefit Trust (collectively, the "VEBA Trusts"). The amendments also permit the assets of either VEBA Trust to be used to pay (or reimburse the Company for) postretirement health and life benefit plan expenses for both retired employees and retired agents. Accordingly, VEBA assets may be applied across the employee and agent postretirement plans and between health and life benefits, as needed. Amounts previously informally earmarked for retiree health or life benefits may now be utilized for either purpose; these reallocations did not require formal amendments to the VEBA Trust agreements. The tax-qualified pension plan for agents also includes a medical-benefit component under IRC Section 401(h) to fund a portion of postretirement health benefit obligations for retired agents and their eligible dependents. Assets in the 401(h) component may only be used for agents' health benefits. The Company pays the remaining balance of these costs.

Postemployment Benefits and Compensated Absences

The Company provides compensated absences to eligible employees during employment, and certain benefits to eligible employees and agents after termination of service. These include, but are not limited to, salary continuation during medical and pregnancy leaves, short-term disability-related benefits, and continuation of health care benefits.

The Company has accrued obligations of $4,480,257 and $3,463,000 related to these benefits at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the net periodic benefit costs associated with these programs were $13,159,353 and $12,690,738, respectively.

Postemployment costs of $7,636,287 and $6,873,630 were billed to subsidiaries for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The expenses for these plans are allocated to each subsidiary in accordance with an intercompany cost sharing arrangement. The liabilities for these plans are included with the liabilities for the corresponding plan of the Company. Pension costs of $50,724,722 and $52,901,621 were billed to subsidiaries for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Postretirement costs of $5,061,081 and $7,167,243 were billed to subsidiaries for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The Company uses a full yield curve approach to determine its U.S. pension and other postretirement benefit obligations as well as the service and interest cost components of net periodic benefit cost.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The discount rates used are based on hypothetical AA yield curves represented by a series of spot discount rates from half a year to 99 years. The spot rate curves are derived from a direct calculation of the implied forward curve, based on the included bond cash flows. Each bond issue underlying the yield curve is required to be non-callable, with a rating of AA, when averaging all available ratings by Moody's Investor Services, Standard & Poor's and Fitch. Additionally, each bond must have at least $300,000,000 par outstanding to ensure it is sufficiently marketable. Finally, the outlier bonds (i.e. those whose yields to maturity significantly deviate from the average yield in each maturity grouping) are removed. The yields are used to discount future pension and other postretirement plan cash flows at an interest rate specifically applicable to the timing of each respective cash flow. For disclosure purposes, the sum of these discounted cash flows are totaled into a single present value and an equivalent weighted-average discount rate is calculated by imputing the singular interest rate that equates the total present value of the stream of future cash flows.

The Company utilizes a full yield curve approach in the calculation of the service and interest cost components by applying the specific spot rates along the yield curve used in the determination of the benefit obligation to their relevant underlying projected cash flows. The current approach provides a more precise measurement of service and interest cost by improving the correlation between projected benefit cash flows and their corresponding spot rates.

The expected long-term return on assets for the tax-qualified pension plans and the VEBA Trusts is based on (1) an evaluation of the historical behavior of the broad financial markets, (2) the plans' target asset allocations, and (3) the future expectations for returns for each asset class, modified by input from the plans' investment consultant based on the current economic and financial market conditions.

(8) The aggregate amount of the accumulated benefit obligation for defined benefit pension plans was $7,489,706,889 as of December 31, 2025 and $7,210,349,492 as of December 31, 2024.

(9) The determination of the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care benefits is reviewed separately for medical and prescription drug plans as well as for participants under and over age 65. At December 31, 2025, these assumed future rates of increase are the same for both medical and prescription drug plans but differ between participants under and over age 65. For dental plans, the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost utilizes a single rate for all participants.

In measuring the year-end 2025 obligations, the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care medical benefits and prescription drug benefits for 2025 was assumed to be 8.50% for participants under 65 and 9.50% for participants age 65 and over. For participants under age 65, the rate was assumed to decline gradually to 4.50%by 2036 and remain at that level thereafter. For participants age 65 and over, the rate was assumed to decline gradually to 4.50% by 2036 and remain at that level thereafter. For dental plans, the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care benefits was assumed to be 4.50% for all participants for 2026 and beyond.

In measuring the year-end 2024 obligations, the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care medical benefits and prescription drug benefits for 2024 was assumed to be 8.65% for participants under 65 and 9.65% for participants age 65 and over. For participants under age 65, the rate was assumed to decline gradually to 4.50% by 2036 and remain at that level thereafter. For participants age 65 and over, the rate was assumed to decline gradually to 4.50% by 2036 and remain at that level thereafter. For dental plans, the annual rate of increase in the per capita cost of covered health care benefits was assumed to be 4.50% for all participants for 2025 and beyond.

(10) The estimated future benefit payments are based on the same assumptions used to measure the benefit obligations at December 31, 2025. The following benefit payments, which reflect expected future service, as appropriate, are expected to be paid:

	Pension Benefits	Postretirement Benefits	Postemployment Benefits
2026	$ 502,000,000	$ 49,900,000	$ 13,800,000
2027	$ 515,000,000	$ 51,100,000	$ 14,600,000
2028	$ 527,000,000	$ 52,800,000	$ 15,500,000
2029	$ 540,700,000	$ 54,200,000	$ 16,600,000
2030	$ 552,800,000	$ 55,900,000	$ 17,600,000
2031-2035	$ 2,900,400,000	$ 306,200,000	$ 104,700,000

(11) The Company expects to pay approximately $67,200,000 of non-qualified pension plan benefits during 2026. The Company expects to pay approximately $19,400,000 for other postretirement benefits during 2026.

The Company's funding policy for the tax-qualified pension plans is to make annual contributions that are no less than the minimum amount needed to comply with the requirements of the ERISA and the IRC, and no greater than the maximum amount deductible for federal income tax purposes. The Company does not have any regulatory contribution requirements for 2026 and does not expect to make voluntary contributions to the tax-qualified pension plans.

Prefunding contributions can be made to either of the VEBA Trusts to partially fund postretirement health and life benefits other than pensions. The Company does not expect to make any prefunding contributions to either of the VEBA Trusts in 2026.

(12) Refer to Note 12B for details of the Company's plan assets.

(13)-(15) Not applicable.

(16) The increase in the benefit obligation at December 31, 2025 was primarily attributable to actuarial losses in the pension and postretirement plans of $210,854,783, which were largely the result of an decrease in the weighted-average discount rate used to measure plan liabilities.

(17) Refer to funded status disclosure in Note 12A(3).

B. Plan Asset Investment Policies and Strategies

Each tax-qualified pension plan currently invests in two group annuity contracts which are held in separate trusts: one contract is an immediate participation guarantee ("IPG") contract relating to the Company's general account ("GA Contract"), and the other contract relates to the Company's pooled separate accounts ("SA Contract"). The Company is the issuer of the GA and SA Contracts. In addition, certain assets are directly invested in real estate investment funds, collective investment trusts and U.S. Treasury Separate Trading of Registered Interest and Principal Securities ("STRIPS") through a separately managed account, which are all managed by third-parties.

Tax-qualified plan assets at of $1,403,909,050 and $2,085,048,005 were included in the Company's separate account assets and liabilities at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Pension plan assets of $3,885,968,614 and $4,706,791,537 were included in the Company's aggregate reserve liability at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Pension plan assets of $367,286,116 and $379,761,986 were invested in the third-party real estate investment funds at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Pension plan assets of $404,742,368 and $376,152,852 were invested in third-party collective investment trusts at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Pension plan assets of $1,091,726,854 and $491,975,321 were invested in U.S. Treasury STRIPS at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

NYL Investors manages the assets in the portion of the Company's general account in which the GA Contract participates. The GA Contract provides for the payment of an annual administrative charge based on a percentage of the assets maintained in the fixed account under the contract. Under the SA Contract, certain registered investment advisory subsidiaries of NYL Investments act as investment managers for the pooled separate accounts. The SA Contract provides for the payment of separate annual fees for the management and administration of each separate account.

The assets of each of the VEBA Trusts are invested in trust owned life insurance ("TOLI"), third-party mutual funds, and cash and cash equivalents.

The TOLI policies are corporate sponsored universal life ("CSUL") and corporate sponsored VUL ("CSVUL") policies issued by NYLIAC. CSVUL policy premiums are invested in certain insurance dedicated funds offered in connection with variable products for which New York Life Investment Management LLC ("NYLIM") serves as investment advisor.

The investment objectives for the tax-qualified pension plans and VEBA Trusts are: (1) to maintain sufficient income and liquidity to fund benefit payments; (2) to preserve the capital value of the plans and trusts; (3) to increase the capital value of the plans and trusts; and (4) to earn a long-term rate of return, which meets or exceeds the plans' and trusts' assumed actuarial rates of return. Under the investment policies for the tax-qualified pension plans, the plans' assets are to be invested primarily in a balanced and diversified mix of high quality equities, fixed income securities, group annuity contracts, private equity investments, real estate investments, cash equivalents, and such other assets as may be appropriate. Under the investment policies for the VEBA Trusts, the assets of the trusts are to be invested primarily in insurance contracts (variable and/or fixed) and/or mutual funds, which in turn, invest in a balanced and diversified mix of high quality equities, fixed income securities, cash equivalents, and such other assets as may be appropriate. The Board of Trustees (the "Trustees") monitor and review investment performance to ensure assets are meeting investment objectives.

The Trustees have established a broad investment strategy targeting an asset allocation for both the tax-qualified pension plans, and for the VEBA Trusts. Diversifying each asset class by style and type further enhances this allocation. In developing this asset allocation strategy, the Trustees took into account, among other factors, the information provided to them by the plans' actuary, information relating to the historical investment returns of each asset class, the correlations of those returns, and input from the plans' investment consultant. The Trustees regularly review the plans' asset allocations versus the targets and make adjustments as appropriate.

The percentage of target allocation and asset allocation, by asset category, for the tax-qualified pension plans at December 31, 2025 and 2024, were as follows:

	Target Allocation		Asset Allocation
	2025	2024	2025	2024
Fixed Income	70%	70%	70%	68%
Equity	30%	30%	30%	32%
Total	100%	100%	100%	100%

The target allocation permits for ranges of 60% to 80% for fixed income and 20% to 40% for equity.

The percentage of target allocation and asset allocation, by asset category, for the VEBA Trusts at December 31, 2025 and 2024, were as follows:

	Target Allocation		Asset Allocation
	2025	2024	2025	2024
Fixed Income	30%	30%	29%	29%
Equity	70%	70%	71%	71%
Total	100%	100%	100%	100%

The pooled separate accounts under the SA Contracts and the third-party mutual funds, collective investment trusts and U.S. Treasury STRIPS separately managed account invest in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the financial statements.

C. Determination of Fair Values

(1) The fair values (refer to Note 20 - Fair Value Measurements for description of levels) of the tax-qualified plan assets at December 31, 2025 are as follows:

	Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Total
Cash	$ 28,588	$ —	$ —	$ 28,588
IPG Contract	—	—	3,885,968,614	3,885,968,614
U.S. Treasury STRIPS	—	1,091,726,854	—	1,091,726,854
Total assets accounted for at fair value	$ 28,588	$ 1,091,726,854	$ 3,885,968,614	$ 4,977,724,056

The total investments in pooled separate accounts and third-party real estate investment funds and collective investment trusts, which meet the net asset value ("NAV") as practical expedient criteria for determining fair value, were $2,175,937,533 and are not included in the table above.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(2) The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used to determine fair value, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

IPG Contract

The IPG contract is carried at fair value, which is comprised of contract value (represents contributions made, plus interest earned, less funds used to pay claims, premiums and fees) plus a fair value adjustment (“FVA”). The FVA is the difference between the estimated cost of purchasing annuities in the open market upon termination of the Contract, referred to as Market Annuity Cost (“MAC”) and the cost of purchasing annuities using the discontinuance provisions of the contract, referred to as the Contract Annuity Cost (“CAC”). The carrying value of the IPG contract was $3,885,968,614 and $3,715,091,810 at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Mortality and interest rate assumptions are significant inputs in the calculation and are derived from market data, contractual provisions and management’s judgement. Therefore, the fair value of the IPG contract is classified as Level 3. The discount rates used to derive the FVA ranged between 3% and 5% in 2025 and 2024. The mortality tables used to derive the MAC are consistent with the mortality tables used to determine the actuarial present value of accumulated benefits. The mortality table used to calculate the CAC is the 1983 group annuity table with static projection to the measurement date.

Pooled Separate Accounts

The pooled separate accounts NAV represents the units held by the tax-qualified pension plans and is the level at which transactions occur. The investments are measured using NAV as a practical expedient, and are not required to be leveled.

Third-Party Real Estate Investment Funds

The Morgan Stanley Prime Property Fund, Invesco Core Real Estate - U.S.A. Fund, and JP Morgan Strategic Property Fund are real estate investment funds that invest primarily in real estate and real estate related assets. The tax-qualified pension plans own shares in these funds and the NAV represents the units held by the plans. The investments are measured using NAV as a practical expedient, and are not required to be leveled.

Third-Party Collective Investment Trusts

The GQG Partners International Equity CIT and Capital Group EuroPacific Growth Trust are collective investment trusts that invest primarily in international equities. The Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Small Capitalization Core Commingled Pool is a collective investment trust that invests primarily in small-cap equities. The tax-qualified pension plans own shares in these investments and the NAV represents the units held by the plans. The investments are measured using NAV as a practical expedient, and are not required to be leveled.

Third-Party U.S. Treasury STRIPS Separately Managed Account

The third-party U.S. Treasury STRIPS separately managed account is comprised of investments in U.S. government securities, which are priced utilizing observable inputs from identical or comparable securities that are actively traded and are classified as Level 2.

Third-Party Mutual Funds

The third-party mutual funds are priced using a daily NAV. These prices are publicly available, and there are no restrictions on contributions and withdrawals. As such, they are classified as Level 1.

CSUL and CSVUL Policies

The CSUL and the CSVUL policies are reported at cash surrender value. These policies have surpassed their surrender charge period; therefore, their cash value and their contract value are equal. These policies are classified as Level 3 since the valuation relies on unobservable inputs to these policies. There is also no secondary market for these assets.

Cash, Cash equivalents and short-term investments

The carrying value of cash is equivalent to its fair value and is classified as Level 1 in the fair value hierarchy as the amounts are available on demand. Due to the short-term maturities, the carrying value of short-term investments and cash equivalents is presumed to approximate fair value and is classified as Level 2.

D. Long-term Rate of Return on Plan Assets

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is based on (1) an evaluation of the historical behavior of the broad financial markets, (2) the plan’s target asset allocation, and (3) the future expectations for returns for each asset class, modified by input from the plan’s investment consultant based on the current economic and financial market conditions.

E. Defined Contribution Plans

The Company maintains separate tax-qualified and non-qualified defined contribution plans covering eligible U.S. employees and agents. For employees, the tax-qualified plan provides for pre-tax, after-tax and/or after-tax Roth salary reduction contributions (subject to maximums) and Company matching contributions of up to 5% of annual salary (base plus eligible incentive pay are considered). The Company’s matching contributions to the employees’ tax-qualified plan totaled $61,416,248 and $61,574,586 for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. For agents, the tax-qualified plan provides for pre-tax and or/after-tax Roth commission reduction agreements, subject to maximums.The Company annually determines the level of discretionary Company contributions to the agents' tax-qualified plan. Contributions are based on each participant's net renewal commissions, net renewal premiums and cash values for the plan year on certain policies for which the participant is the original writing agent. In 2025 and 2024, the Company's contributions to the agents' tax-qualified plan totaled $1,607,765 and $1,429,242, respectively.

Separate non-qualified plans credit Company contributions with respect to compensation earned based on production and policy persistency. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company's contributions to the agents' non-qualified plans totaled $8,181,784 and $7,949,042, respectively.

B. Assessments

(1) Most of the jurisdictions in which the Company is licensed to transact business require life insurers to participate in guaranty associations which are organized to pay contractual benefits pursuant to insurance policies issued by impaired, insolvent or failed life insurers. These associations levy assessments, up to prescribed limits, on all member insurers in a particular state on the basis of the proportionate share of the premiums written by member insurers in the line of business in which the impaired, insolvent or failed life insurer is engaged. Some states permit member insurers to recover assessments through full or partial premium tax offsets.

The Company recorded guaranty fund receivables of $13,714,213 and $14,577,258 at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. The Company recorded guaranty fund liabilities of $28,850,169 and $29,874,146 at December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The Company has received notification of the insolvency of various life insurers. It is expected that these insolvencies will result in non-recoverable guaranty fund assessments against the Company of $15,135,956, which have been accrued in the financial statements.

(2) Assets recognized from paid and accrued premium tax offsets and policy surcharges

The Company did not further discount these amounts.

C. Gain Contingencies

Not applicable.

D. Claims Related Extra Contractual Obligation and Bad Faith Losses Stemming from Lawsuits

The Company's exposure to extra contractual obligations and bad faith losses is immaterial.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

E. Joint and Several Liabilities

Not applicable.

F. All Other Contingencies

The Company and/or its subsidiaries are defendants in individual and/or alleged class action suits arising from their agency sales force, insurance (including variable contracts registered under the federal securities law), investment, retail securities, employment and/or other operations, including actions involving retail sales practices. Some of the actions seek substantial or unspecified compensatory and punitive damages. The Company and/or its subsidiaries are also from time to time involved in various governmental, administrative, and investigative proceedings and inquiries.

Notwithstanding the uncertain nature of litigation and regulatory inquiries, the outcome of which cannot be predicted, the Company believes that, after provisions made in the financial statements, the ultimate liability that could result from litigation and proceedings would not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position; however, it is possible that settlements or adverse determinations in one or more actions or other proceedings in the future could have a material adverse effect on the Company's operating results for a given year.

Several commercial banks have customary security interests in certain assets of the Company to secure potential overdrafts and other liabilities of the Company that may arise under custody, securities lending and other banking agreements with such banks.

Based upon Company experience, the amount of premiums and other accounts receivable that may become uncollectible and result in a potential loss is not material to the Company's financial condition.

15. Leases

A. Lessee Operating Lease

(1)a Rent expense for all other leases for the year ended December 31, 2025 amounted to $100,629,948, of which $58,675,314 was billed to subsidiaries in accordance with an intercompany cost sharing agreement.

(1)c–(1)d The Company, as lessee, has various lease agreements for real property (including leases of office space) and lease agreements for data processing and other equipment. Under the real property leases, the Company does not have the option to purchase the leased property. Under the equipment agreements, the Company has the option to purchase only the equipment. The leases on equipment do not contain any escalation clauses, but the majority of real property leases have escalation clauses that require the Company to pay expense increases over a specified amount. Real property leases typically have a variety of restrictions imposed on the lessee, which are generally customary in the marketplace and are not of a financial nature. Equipment leases do not have any restrictions.

OTC derivatives may either be cleared through a clearinghouse (“OTC-cleared”) or transacted between the Company and a counterparty under bilateral agreements (“OTC-bilateral”). Similar to exchange traded futures, OTC-cleared derivatives require initial and daily variation margin collateral postings. When transacting OTC-cleared derivatives, the Company is exposed to credit risk resulting from default of the clearinghouse and/or default of the Futures Commission Merchant (e.g. clearinghouse agent).

For OTC-bilateral derivatives, the Company obtains collateral in accordance with the terms of credit support annexes (“CSAs”) negotiated as part of the master agreements entered into with most OTC-bilateral counterparties. CSAs define the terms under which collateral is transferred between the parties in order to mitigate credit risk arising from “in the money” derivative positions. The VM CSA requires that an OTC-bilateral counterparty post collateral to secure its anticipated derivative obligation, taking into account netting arrangements. Under federal regulation that became effective on September 1, 2021, additional margin is required to be posted to and collected from counterparties to OTC-bilateral derivatives to cover market movements over a ten day close-out period. This "initial margin" is documented under its own IM CSA and amounts posted under the IM CSA must be maintained at a third-party custodian, without any right of rehypothecation. In addition, certain of the Company’s agreements require that if the Company’s (or its counterparty’s) credit rating were to fall below a specified rating assigned by a credit rating agency, the other party could request immediate payout on all transactions under the agreements or full collateralization of the positions thereunder. Cash collateral is invested in short-term investments.

The Company may be exposed to credit-related losses in the event that an OTC-bilateral counterparty fails to perform its obligations under its contractual terms. In contractual arrangements with OTC-bilateral counterparties that do not include netting provisions, in the event of default, credit exposure is limited to the positive fair value of derivatives at the reporting date. In contractual arrangements with OTC-bilateral counterparties that include netting provisions, in the event of default, credit exposure is limited to the net fair value, if positive, of all derivatives at the reporting date.

See Schedule DB of the Company's annual statement for additional details.

(4) The Company manages its credit risk by entering into transactions with creditworthy counterparties, using master netting arrangements, and obtaining collateral where appropriate. All of the net credit exposure for the Company from derivatives transactions is with investment-grade counterparties. For OTC-cleared and exchange traded derivatives, the Company obtains collateral through variation margin which is adjusted daily based on the parties' net derivative position.

For OTC-bilateral derivatives, the Company obtains collateral in accordance with the terms of credit support annexes (“CSAs”) negotiated as part of the master agreements entered into with most OTC-bilateral counterparties. In addition, certain of the Company’s contracts require that, if the Company’s (or its counterparty’s) credit rating were to fall below a specified rating assigned by a credit rating agency, the other party could request immediate payout on all transactions under the contract or full collateralization of the positions there under. Cash collateral is invested in short-term investments.

17. Sale, Transfer and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities

A. Transfers of Receivables Reported as Sales

Not applicable.

B. Transfer and Servicing of Financial Assets

(1) The Company participates in securities lending programs whereby securities, which are included in investments, are loaned to third-parties for the purpose of enhancing income on securities held through reinvestment of cash collateral received upon lending. For securities lending transactions, the Company requires initial collateral, usually in the form of cash, equal to 102% of the fair value of domestic securities loaned. The borrower of the loaned securities is permitted to sell or repledge those securities. For securities lending transactions, the carrying value of securities classified as bonds and on loan at December 31, 2025 was $513,399,965 with a fair value of $501,179,072. The Company recorded cash collateral received under these agreements of $511,859,046 and established a corresponding liability for the same amount, which is included in payable for securities lending on Page 3 – Liabilities, Surplus and Other Funds. At December 31, 2025, there were no separate account securities lending agreements.

The Company participates in dollar repurchase agreements to sell and repurchase securities. The purchaser of the securities is permitted to sell or repledge those securities. At December 31, 2025, the Company's general account did not enter into any dollar repurchase agreements. At December 31, 2025, the carrying value and fair value of securities sold from the separate accounts under dollar repurchase agreements was $49,307,822, which were agency mortgage-backed-pass-through securities that were classified as bonds and those securities had a weighted average maturity of 22 years, with a weighted average yield of 5%. The Company recorded a liability for $49,438,236, which represents the repurchase price of the assets.

(2)-(7) Not applicable.

C. Wash Sales

(1) In the course of the Company’s investment management activities, securities may be sold and repurchased within 30 days of the sale date to meet individual portfolio objectives and to achieve the ongoing rebalancing of exposure.

(2) The Company did not have any wash sales where securities with an NAIC rating designation of 3 or below, or unrated, were sold during the year ended December 31, 2025 and reacquired within 30 days of the sale date.

18. Gain or Loss to the Insurer from Uninsured Plans and the Uninsured Portion of Partially Insured Plans

Not applicable.

19. Direct Premium Written/Produced by Managing General Agents/Third-Party Administrators

The Company did not have any direct premium written/produced by a single managing general agent/third-party administrator equal to or greater than 5% of surplus during 2025.

20. Fair Value Measurements

A. The Company's financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value have been classified, for disclosure purposes, based on a hierarchy defined by SSAP No. 100, "Fair Value Measurements". Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. This guidance establishes a framework for measuring fair value that includes a hierarchy used to classify the inputs used in measuring fair value. The hierarchy prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three levels. The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(1) The levels of the fair value hierarchy are based on the inputs to the valuation as follows:

Level 1 Fair value is based on unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in an active market. Active markets are defined as a market in which many transactions occur with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 Observable inputs other than level 1 prices, such as quoted prices in active markets for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active for identical or similar assets or liabilities, or other model driven inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities. Valuations are generally obtained from third-party pricing services for identical or comparable assets or liabilities or through the use of valuation methodologies using observable market inputs.

Level 3 Instruments whose values are based on prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement. These inputs reflect management's own assumptions in pricing the asset or liability. Pricing may also be based upon broker quotes that do not represent an offer to transact. Prices are determined using valuation methodologies such as option pricing models, discounted cash flow models and other similar techniques. Non-binding broker quotes, which are utilized when pricing service information is not available, are reviewed for reasonableness based on the Company's understanding of the market, and are generally considered Level 3. To the extent the internally developed valuations use significant unobservable inputs, they are classified as Level 3.

The following table represents the balances of assets and liabilities measured at fair value or NAV as of December 31, 2025:

[1] The total gains or (losses) included in surplus for separate accounts assets are offset by an equal amount for separate accounts liabilities, which results in a net zero impact on surplus for the Company.

Transfers between levels

Transfers between levels may occur due to changes in valuation sources, or changes in the availability of market observable inputs, which generally are caused by changes in market conditions such as liquidity, trading volume or bid-ask spreads, or as a result of a security measured at amortized cost at the beginning of the period, but measured at estimated fair value at the end of the period, or vice versa due to a ratings downgrade or upgrade.

Transfers into and out of Level 3

The Company's basis for transferring assets and liabilities into and out of Level 3 is based on changes in the observability of data, a change in the security's measurement or changes in redemption restrictions of certain separate account investments

Transfers into Level 3 totaled $9,732,894 for the year ended December 31, 2025, due to $7,579,726 of preferred stocks and $2,153,168 of common stocks due to a change in price source resulting from corporate actions. Transfers out of Level 3 totaled $60,363,538 for the same period, which included $45,964,030 of other invested assets that were measured at fair value at the beginning of the period and measured at amortized cost at the end of the period; $7,111,571 of common stocks and $1,787,937 of preferred stocks, both due to a change in price source resulting from corporate actions; and $5,500,000 of separate account non-agency asset backed securities related to a change in price source.

(4)-(5) Determination of Fair Value

The Company has an established and well-documented process for determining fair value. Security pricing is applied using a hierarchy approach whereby publicly available prices are first sought from nationally recognized third-party pricing services. For most private placement securities, the Company applies a matrix-based pricing methodology, which uses spreads derived from third-party benchmark bond indices. For private placement securities that cannot be priced through these processes, the Company uses internal models and calculations. All other securities are submitted to independent brokers for prices. The Company performs various analyses to ascertain that the prices represent fair value. Examples of procedures performed include, but are not limited to, back testing recent trades, monitoring trading volumes, and performing variance analysis of monthly price changes using different thresholds based on asset type. The Company also performs an annual review of all third-party pricing services. During this review, the Company obtains an understanding of the process and sources used by the pricing service to ensure that they maximize the use of observable inputs, the pricing service's frequency of updating prices, and the controls that the pricing service uses to ensure that their prices reflect market assumptions. The Company also selects a sample of securities and obtains a more detailed understanding from each pricing service regarding how they derived the price assigned to each security. Where inputs or prices do not reflect market participant assumptions, the Company will challenge these prices and apply different methodologies that will enhance the use of observable inputs and data. The Company may use non-binding broker quotes or internal valuations to support the fair value of securities that go through this formal price challenge process. At December 31, 2025, the Company challenged the price it received from third party pricing services on general account securities with a book value of $181,736 and a market value of $222,768.The Company challenged the price it received from third party pricing services on separate account securities with a book value of $4,944,192 and a market value of $3,865,243.

In addition, the Company has a pricing committee that provides oversight over the Company's prices and fair value process for securities. The committee meets quarterly and is responsible for the review and approval of the Company's valuation procedures. The committee is also responsible for the review of pricing exception reports as well as the review of significant inputs used in the valuation of assets that are valued internally.

For Level 1 investments, valuations are generally based on observable inputs that reflect quoted prices for identical assets in active markets.

The fair value for Level 2 and Level 3 valuations are generally based on a combination of the market and income approach. The market approach generally utilizes market transaction data for the same or similar instruments, while the income approach involves determining fair values from discounted cash flow methodologies.

The following represents a summary of significant valuation techniques for assets and liabilities used to determine fair value, as well as the general classification of such instruments pursuant to the valuation hierarchy.

Level 1 measurements

SVO identified bond ETF

For U.S. SAP, bonds reported as Level 1 represent investments in certain SVO approved ETF and mutual funds. Valuation of these securities is based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are readily and regularly available. All other ETFs and mutual funds are classified and accounted for as common stock.

Common stocks

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These securities are comprised of exchange traded U.S. and foreign common stock and mutual funds. The fair value of these securities is primarily based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are readily and regularly available.

Derivatives (including separate accounts liabilities – derivatives)

These derivatives are comprised of exchange traded future contracts. The fair value of these securities is primarily based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are readily and regularly available.

Separate accounts assets

These assets are comprised of cash and common stocks. Common stocks are generally traded on an exchange.

Level 2 measurements

Preferred stocks

The fair value of preferred stock is obtained from third-party pricing services. Vendors generally use an income-based valuation approach by using a discounted cash flow model or it may use a market approach to arrive at the security's fair value or a combination of the two.

Bonds

The fair value of bonds is obtained from third-party pricing services, matrix-based pricing, internal models or broker quotes. Third-party pricing services generally use an income-based valuation approach by using a discounted cash-flow model or it may also use a market approach by looking at recent trades of a specific security to determine fair value on public securities or a combination of the two. Typical inputs used by these pricing services include, but are not limited to: benchmark yields, reported trades, issuer spreads, bids, offers, benchmark securities, estimated cash flows and prepayment speeds, which the Company has determined are observable inputs.

Private placement securities are primarily priced using a market approach such as a matrix-based pricing methodology, which uses spreads derived from third-party benchmark bond indices. Specifically, the Barclays Investment Grade Corporate Index is used for investment-grade securities and the Citi High Yield Cash Index is used for below investment-grade securities. These indices are two widely recognized, reliable and well regarded benchmarks by participants in the financial services industry, which represent the broader U.S. public bond markets. The spreads derived from each matrix are adjusted for liquidity. The liquidity premium is standardized and based on market transactions.

Certain private placement securities that cannot be priced using the matrix pricing described above, are priced by an internally developed discounted cash flow model or are priced based on internal calculations. The model uses observable inputs with a discount rate based off spreads of comparable public bond issues, adjusted for liquidity, rating and maturity. The Company assigns a credit rating for private placement securities based upon internal analysis. The liquidity premium is usually based on market transactions. These securities are classified as Level 2.

For some of the private placement securities priced through the model, the liquidity adjustments may not be based on market data, but rather, calculated internally. If the impact of the liquidity adjustment, which usually requires the most judgment, is not significant to the overall value of the security, the security is still classified as Level 2. If it is deemed to be significant, the security is classified as Level 3.

Common Stocks

These securities include equity investments that do not trade in an active market and are valued based on prices obtained from independent pricing vendors using unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for similar securities that are readily and regularly available. These prices are validated for reasonableness against recently traded market prices.

Derivatives

The fair value of derivative instruments is generally derived using valuation models that use an income approach, except for derivatives, which are either exchange-traded, or the fair value is priced using broker quotations. The selection of a particular model depends upon the contractual terms of, and specific risks inherent in the instrument, as well as the availability of pricing information in the market. The Company generally uses similar models to value similar instruments. Valuation model inputs include contractual terms, yield curves, foreign exchange rates, equity prices, credit curves, measures of volatility, and other factors. OTC derivatives that trade in liquid markets, where model inputs are observable for substantially the full term, are classified as Level 2.

Separate accounts assets

These are assets primarily related to investments in U.S. government and treasury securities, corporate bonds and mortgage-backed securities. These separate accounts assets are valued and assigned within the fair value hierarchy, consistent with the methodologies described herein for similar financial instruments held within the general account of the Company.

Level 3 measurements

Bonds

The valuation techniques for most Level 3 bonds are generally the same as those described in Level 2. However, if the investments are less liquid or are lightly traded, there is generally less observable market data, and therefore these investments will be classified as Level 3. Circumstances where observable market data are not available may include events such as market illiquidity and credit events related to the security. In addition, certain securities are priced based upon internal valuations using significant unobservable inputs. If a security could not be priced by a third-party vendor or through internal pricing models, broker quotes are received and reviewed by each investment analyst. These inputs may not be observable. Therefore, Level 3 classification is determined to be appropriate.

If the price received from third-party pricing services does not appear to reflect market activity, the Company may challenge the price. For securities which go through this formal price challenge process, a non-binding broker quote or internal valuation is used to support the fair value instead. The Company also uses non-binding broker quotes to fair value certain bonds, when the Company is unable to obtain prices from third-party vendors.

Private placement securities where adjustments for liquidity are considered significant to the overall price are classified as Level 3.

Preferred and common stocks

These securities include equity investments with privately held entities, including a government organization, where the prices are derived from internal valuations.

Derivatives

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Derivatives that are valued based upon models with any significant unobservable market inputs or inputs from less actively traded markets, or where the fair value is solely derived using broker quotations, are classified as Level 3.

Other Invested Assets

Other Invested Assets include residual tranches of securitizations. The fair value of the residual tranches of securitizations is derived using an income valuation approach, which is based on a discounted cash flow calculation that may or may not use observable inputs and is classified as Level 3.

Bonds

The fair value of bonds is determined by considering one of four primary sources: (1) security pricing is applied using a hierarchy approach whereby publicly available prices are first sought from nationally recognized third-party pricing services, (2) securities are priced using a matrix-based pricing methodology, which uses spreads derived from third-party benchmark bond indices, (3) securities are priced using an internal pricing model or methodology, and (4) securities are submitted to independent brokers for prices.

The pricing service generally uses an income-based valuation approach by using a discounted cash-flow model or it may also use a market approach by looking at recent trades of a specific security to determine fair value or a combination of the two. Typical inputs used by these pricing services include, but are not limited to: benchmark yields, reported trades, issuer spreads, bids, offers, benchmark securities, estimated cash flows and prepayment speeds.

Independent pricing vendors do not supply prices for private placement bonds. These securities are primarily priced using a market approach such as a matrix-based pricing methodology, which uses spreads derived from third-party benchmark bond indices. Any private securities that cannot be priced using this methodology, are priced using an internally developed model based upon assigned comparable public issues adjusted for liquidity, maturity and rating, or are priced based on internal calculations. The Company assigns a credit rating based upon internal analysis.

Prices from pricing services and broker quotes are validated on an ongoing basis to ensure the adequacy and reliability of the fair value measurement. The Company performs both quantitative and qualitative analysis of the prices including initial and ongoing review of third-party pricing methodologies, back testing of recent trades, and a thorough review of pricing trends and statistics.

Included in bonds is an affiliated bond from MCF. The affiliated bond from MCF had a carrying value of $3,874,176,788 and a fair value of $4,018,296,164 at December 31, 2025. The fair value of this security is calculated internally and may include inputs that may not be observable. Therefore, this security is classified as Level 3.

Preferred and common stocks

The fair value of unaffiliated equity securities is determined by considering one of three primary sources: (1) security pricing is applied using a hierarchy approach whereby publicly available prices are first sought from third-party pricing services, (2) the remaining un-priced securities are submitted to independent brokers for prices, and (3) securities are priced using an internal pricing model or methodology.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Prices from pricing services and broker quotes are validated on an ongoing basis to ensure the adequacy and reliability of the fair value measurement. The Company performs both quantitative and qualitative analysis of the prices including, initial and ongoing review of third-party pricing methodologies, back testing of recent trades, and a thorough review of pricing trends and statistics.

Mortgage loans

The estimated fair value of mortgage loans is determined using an income approach, based upon the present value of the expected cash flows discounted at a market yield using an internally calculated spread. The spread is based on management's judgment and assumptions, which takes into account matters such as property type, LTV and remaining term of each loan, etc. The spread is a significant component of the pricing inputs, and therefore, these investments are classified as Level 3.

Cash, cash equivalents, short-term investments and investment income due and accrued

Cash on hand and money market mutual funds are classified as Level 1. Cash overdrafts (i.e. outstanding checks) are classified as Level 2. Due to the short-term maturities of cash equivalents, short term investments, and investment income due and accrued, carrying value approximates fair value and is classified as Level 2.

Derivatives (including separate accounts liabilities)

The fair value of derivative instruments is generally derived using valuation models that use an income approach, except for derivatives that are exchange-traded, which are valued using quoted prices in an active market. Where valuation models are used, the selection of a particular model depends upon the contractual terms of, and specific risks inherent in the instrument, as well as the availability of pricing information in the market. The Company generally uses similar models to value similar instruments. Valuation model inputs include contractual terms, yield curves, foreign exchange rates, equity prices, credit curves, measures of volatility and other factors.

Other invested assets

Other invested assets are principally comprised of tax credit investments, surplus notes, capital notes, single asset single borrower commercial mortgage backed securities, affiliated loans, residual tranches of securitizations and other investments with characteristics of debt. Surplus notes, capital notes and single asset single borrower commercial mortgage backed securities are valued using prices from third-party pricing services that generally use a discounted cash-flow model or a market approach to arrive at the security's fair value and are classified as Level 2. The fair value of affiliated loans and the tax credit investments is derived using an income valuation approach, which is based on a discounted cash flow calculation using a discount rate that is determined internally and therefore classified as Level 3. (refer to Note 5 - Investments in Tax Credit Structures). The fair value of the majority of the other investments with debt characteristics and the majority of the residual tranches of securitizations is derived using an income valuation approach, which is based on a discounted cash flow calculation that may or may not use observable inputs and therefore is classified as Level 3.

Derivatives – collateral (including separate accounts liabilities - collateral)

The carrying value of these instruments approximates fair value since these assets and liabilities are generally short-term in nature and are classified as Level 2.

Separate accounts assets (including - collateral)

Assets within the separate accounts are primarily invested in bonds and common stock. The fair value of investments in the separate accounts is calculated using the same procedures as are used for bonds and common stocks in the general account.

The separate accounts also invest in limited partnerships and hedge fund investments. The fair value of such partnerships is determined by reference to the limited partnership's NAV. The valuation of the hedge funds is based upon the hedge funds' latest financial statements adjusted for cash activity since that date and estimates of market valuations.

Deposit fund contracts

For funding agreements backing medium term notes, fair values are based on available market prices for the notes. For other funding agreements and annuities certain liabilities, fair values are estimated using discounted cash flow calculations based on interest rates currently being offered for similar contracts with maturities consistent with those remaining for the contracts being valued. For all other deposit funds, the fair value is estimated to be equal to the account value since they can be withdrawn at anytime and without prior notice.

Premiums paid in advance

For premiums paid in advance, the carrying value of the liability approximates fair value.

Borrowed money

Borrowed money consists of intercompany borrowings and other financing arrangements. Due to the short-term nature of the transactions, the carrying value approximates fair value. At December 31, 2025 the Company had repurchase agreements of $49,307,822.

Amounts payable under securities lending

Amounts due under securities lending consists of cash collateral received under securities lending agreements. Due to the short-term nature of the transactions, the carrying value approximates fair value.

D. If it is not practicable for an entity to estimate the fair value of that financial instrument or a class of financial instruments, the following shall be disclosed:

F. Subprime and Midprime Mortgage Related Risk Exposure

(1) The Company categorizes mortgage securities with an average FICO score (credit score) of 625 or less as “subprime” mortgage securities and mortgage securities with an average FICO score of greater than 625 and less than 700 as “midprime” mortgage securities. Securities with an average FICO score of 700 or greater are characterized as “prime”. The delinquency, credit loss, prepayment rate of the pool of mortgages collateralizing the investment, and credit enhancement available for the investment are reviewed. Cash flow forecasts for each subprime and midprime mortgage security using estimates of future prepayment, delinquency, default and loss severity rates are prepared and are stress tested. This analysis shows that the majority of the unrealized losses associated with the Company’s subprime and midprime mortgage holdings are due to market dislocation and is not reflective of the projected cash flows for the portfolio of securities or how these securities have performed to date.

(2) The Company does not engage in subprime residential or commercial mortgage lending and therefore has no direct exposure through investments in subprime mortgage loans.

(3) The Company has exposure to subprime and midprime residential mortgage lending through its fixed maturity investments that are collateralized by mortgages that have characteristics of subprime or midprime lending. Subprime residential mortgage lending is the origination of residential mortgage loans to customers with weak credit profiles, including using relaxed mortgage-underwriting standards that provide for affordable mortgage products. These investments are primarily in the form of asset-backed securities (“ABS”) supported by subprime or midprime residential mortgage loans or collateralized debt securities (“CDOs”) that contain a subprime or midprime loan component. The collective carrying value of these investments is $464,420,654 representing 0.30% of total fixed maturity investments. Of this amount, 79.1% had “AAA” or “AA” credit quality ratings. There was no common stock subprime or midprime exposure. The Company manages its subprime and midprime risk exposure by limiting the Company’s holdings in these types of instruments, and performing ongoing analysis of cash flows, prepayment speeds, default rates and other stress variables.

The Company’s general account fixed maturity investments that are collateralized by residential mortgages that have characteristics of subprime or midprime lending at December 31, 2025 are:

Subprime - Type	Actual Cost	Book Adjusted Carrying Value	Fair Value	OTTI Losses

G. Retained Assets

(1) Effective June 1, 2012, the Company ceased offering retained asset accounts as a settlement option to life insurance and annuity beneficiaries. Prior to that date, beneficiaries could select the retained asset account as a settlement option for satisfying individual and group life insurance and annuity claims of $10,000 or more. For group life beneficiaries, the default settlement option is a lump sum payout if the claimant does not make any other selection. Retained asset accounts are interest-bearing draft accounts administered by an unaffiliated bank and beneficiaries may access available funds by writing a check for any amount up to the full remaining balance of the net claim settlement. The Company's aggregate liability for retained asset accounts is reported as a component of liability for deposit-type contracts on Page 3 – Liabilities, Surplus and Other Funds.

Interest rates for retained asset accounts are not guaranteed and are declared periodically at the discretion of the Company. The following interest rates were paid to retained asset account holders in 2025:

Therefore, there has been a $61,195,389 favorable prior-year development from December 31, 2024 to December 31, 2025. The Company is the assumed obligor for certain structured settlement agreements with unaffiliated insurance companies, beneficiaries and other non-affiliated entities. To satisfy its obligations under these agreements, the Company owns single premium annuity contracts issued by NYLIAC. The obligations are based upon the actuarially determined present value of expected future payments. Interest rates used in establishing such obligations range from 8.25% to 8.75%. The Company has directed NYLIAC to make the payments under the annuity contracts directly to the beneficiaries under the structured settlement agreements. At December 31, 2025 and 2024, the carrying value of the single premium annuity contracts and the corresponding obligations amounted to $144,750,787 and $145,306,661, respectively.

29. Participating Policies

Individual and group life participating policies represent 99.4% of total individual and group life insurance inforce. The Company paid dividends in the amount of $2,636,223,036 to individual and group life policyholders and did not allocate any additional income to such policyholders.

30. Premium Deficiency Reserves

31. Reserves for Life Contracts and Annuity Contracts

(2) Certain substandard policies are valued on tables that are multiples of the standard table. Other substandard policies are valued as equivalent to standard lives on the basis of insurance age. Additional reserves are held on account of anticipated extra mortality for policies subject to extra premiums.

(4) The tabular interest (Page 7, Line 4) for group annuities has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves. The tabular interest for all other lines of business has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7.

The tabular less actual reserves released (Page 7, Line 5) has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7 for all lines of business.

The tabular cost (Page 7, Line 9) for 7-Year term, for certain survivorship whole life policies, and for ancillary coverage has been determined by formula as described in the instructions for Page 7. For all other coverage, including the bulk of individual life, the tabular cost has been determined from the basic data for the calculation of policy reserves.

(5) The tabular interest on funds not involving life contingencies on Exhibit 7, Line 3 is generally the interest actually credited to or accrued on such funds.

A. Separate Accounts Activity

(1) The Company utilizes separate accounts to record and account for assets and liabilities for particular lines of business and/or transactions. At December 31, 2025, the Company reported separate accounts assets and liabilities from employee benefit plans (group annuity).

The Company has certain market value guaranteed separate accounts and other book value guaranteed separate accounts for which supplemental separate accounts assets are used to fund the excess of the actuarial liabilities for future guaranteed payments over the market value and the book value of the assets, respectively. The Company evaluates separate accounts surplus quarterly and transfers funds to or (from) the supplemental separate account as necessary, with cash settlement only for market value guaranteed separate accounts.

In accordance with the domiciliary state procedures for approving items within separate accounts, the classification of the separate accounts is subject to Section 4240 of the New York State Insurance Law. In addition, the separate accounts are supported through affirmative approval of the plans of operations by the NYSDFS.

(2) At December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company's separate accounts statement included legally insulated assets of $10,847,132,408 and $11,533,789,017 respectively. b. 2024 $ 12,671,217
c. 2023 $ 13,579,444

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(5) At December 31, 2025, there are no asset-for-asset swaps, or asset transfers between separate accounts and general account.

B. General Nature and Characteristics of Separate Accounts Business

The Company has separate accounts funding group annuity contracts. A book value separate account funds guaranteed benefits and market value separate accounts fund both guaranteed and non-guaranteed benefits.

The book value separate account primarily support certain employee benefit contracts where investment performance is not fully passed through to the individual contract holder as there are certain restrictions upon surrender. More specifically, book value separate account guarantees principal and interest during active status and at the contract discontinuance, the contract holder is entitled to a book value payout, if 12 months advance notice is provided. Alternatively, the contract holder may elect discontinuance with at least 10 days notice and receive an immediate lump sum payment subject to a termination adjustment factor (tied to an external index). The factor will not be greater than 1.

Certain market value separate accounts provide a minimum guaranteed interest rate. For these separate accounts, at contract discontinuance, the contract holder is entitled to an immediate payout of market value, or an installment payout of the guaranteed amount, or for certain contracts, a lump sum payout of the guaranteed amount at the end of a specific number of years, as set forth in the contract.

Separate accounts funding non-guaranteed benefits provide no guarantee of principal or interest, and payout is at fair value at contract discontinuance.

(b) Explanation of basis of allocation by states, etc., of premiums and annuity considerations

Direct Ordinary premiums, Annuities and Individual Accident and Health premiums are allocated by States on the basis of the address to which the premium notice is sent. Single premiums are allocated according to the residence of the insured, owner, or annuitant or the address designated to which business communication should be sent. Generally, Group Life, Group Health, and Group Annuity contracts are allocated according to the residence of the individual for whom benefits are purchased or provided. For certain Employer sponsored Group Life and Group Health policies covering less than 500 lives, the premiums received are generally allocated to the state in which the employees are principally located or in which the principal office of the group policyholder is located. Deposit-Type Funds are state distributed based on where the contract is issued. This is usually the state where the principal office of the plan sponsor is located. The plan sponsor is typically the employer who establishes the pension plan. Premium or annuities waived under disability or other contract provisions are shown in one sum on Line 93, columns 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7. All US business are allocated by state regardless of license status. Dividends applied to pay renewal premiums and considerations for annuities are state distributed. NOTE: Schedule T should not be used as the basis for state guaranty association assessments.

(c) Column 4 should balance with Exhibit 1, Lines 6.4, 10.4 and 16.4, Col. 6, or with Schedule H, Part 1, Line 1, indicate which: Exhibit 1, Lines 6.4, 10.4, and 16.4, Col. 6.....
